THOUGHT and COMMENT GARDENS

These are the days that the amateur gardeners who got their seed into the ground early are jubilant. He who tarried however is beginning to worry for by the time the ground will be dry enough to work the rains will be a thing of the past for this year and the late gardener probably has a vision of himself with the garden hose and an increasing water bill.

The recent increase in the price of potatoes which brings this food to four pounds for 25 cents probably has caused many an amateur gardener to pat himself on the back—provided of course he got in some of the valuable tubers.

It really is a treat these days to watch the old garden grow. One can almost stand and see the young plants shooting up into the air. If old man Sol will come out of hiding in the near future and chase away some cold weather that has been promised after the rains cease this will be an ideal year for gardens.

With the large yards and acres of unused ground in Richmond it is lamentable that some plan is not worked out to offer a prize to school children and other children to plant and care for the best garden, both flower and vegetable.

A small prize or other inducement might take some of the youngsters off of the streets where they would not cause motorists to have heart failure every time they turn a corner and come upon a group of children playing in the middle of the street.

Richmond can use a lot of flower gardens and things of a like nature before it will present as beautiful a sight as is possible here.

Unfortunately in some respects however all the rain will do for some section will be to make the weeds grow so high that walking on the sidewalk will be impossible.

SPEEDERS FINED

Fines totaling $55 were assessed by Justice of the Peace John Roth. Those fined included: A. Mortensen, Mill Valley, $15 for speeding; J. Blumfield and G. D. Graham, of San Francisco, each $15, the former for speeding and the latter for cutting-in; and A. T. Allen, of Alameda, $10 for speeding.

International Date Line Is Located On Macdonald Ave.

Now Joshua made the Sun stand still, we are told. But it remained for Richmond to make time stop and if you don't think it's so, look for yourself. Strolling down Macdonald avenue, the cub reporter yesterday—

Discovered:—

Another International Date Line.

IN RICHMOND.

Located on Macdonald Avenue between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.

In a prominent position where it can be seen for blocks in either direction a big clock on an automobile house tells the world on one side that it is 11:50 while a trip to the other side of the timepiece reveals the fact that the few paces have changed the time to 1:45.

And while other clocks throughout the city keep on in their monotonous way telling the people that time is flying, this clock a bit different from the rest—given them their choice of time, or fools them by giving two distinct variations, neither of which is in accordance with the usual run of perfectly behaved clocks.

ITALY STIRRED OVER ATTEMPT TO MURDER MUSSOLINI

Mounted Soldiers are Used to Present Violence in Rome Following Shooting

(By Universal Service)

SPECIAL CABLE TO UNIVERSAL SERVICE. ROME, April 7.—Mounted troops have been called out to keep order in Rome tonight in demonstration of the latest attempt to assassinate Premier Mussolini.

The calling out of the troops was the direct result of the Premier's order that there must be no reprisals and followed his appearance on the balcony of the palace after the shooting to appeal to the people to be calm.

"If dangers confront us," said Mussolini, "I will face them with all equanimity. Now go home quietly without using violence." But in spite of this plea there were serious, though abortive demonstrations during one of which the printing establishment of Il Mondo was practically destroyed.

In another near riot crowd showed ill feeling in front of the Soviet Embassy, but the crowds there were dispersed by the mounted soldiers.

There was a great ovation for the wounded Premier when he stepped out on the balcony of the Chigi Palace to assure his people that he had not been seriously harmed by the bullet of the crazed woman.

Showing almost no effect of the wound or the excitement, except for the bandages on his face, the Premier responded with a wave of one hand and a bow to the greetings of the throngs who were waiting for a chance to congratulate him.

The physician's bulletin describing the wound inflicted on the Premier was signed by Dr. Bastinelli, who attended the Premier within a few moments of the attack.

"Mussolini suffers from a wound due to a bullet perforating the nostrils, but is not seriously injured," said Dr. Bastinelli's bulletin.

Premier Mussolini this morning attended a meeting of the international Congress of Surgeons where he made a short speech. He was leaving the congress to return to the palace to complete important state business before sailing tonight for Tripoli where he planned to make a study of Italian matters in connection with the African Colonies.

Stepping from the hall he was about to enter his automobile when the wild-eyed woman dashed out of the crowd waiting to cheer the Premier and fired at his head with a revolver.

Premier's Attacker Believed Demented

(Copyright 1926, Universal Service)

Rome, April 7.—It is not known why I wanted to kill Mussolini, means Violet Ashbourne, British peer, in her prison tonight.

"I never before saw the Premier and I recognized him only from photographs."

That is all the demented Irish woman seems to realize of her attempt to assassinate the Italian Premier when Mussolini, who cheated death with lightning twist of his head as she tried to shoot him this morning on the famous "Campidoglio."

The 50-year-old spinster member of the family of the famous Baron Ashbourne lies in jail where she was taken by the police after having saved her from rough handling by an infuriated crowd that witnessed her deed.

Throughout Italy the preservation of the life of Mussolini is being celebrated tonight by great crowds who acclaim him as the savior of the nation.

Mussolini, escaping with a large wound in his nostril was able to attend to the day's business wearing a strip of sticking plaster. The actual shooting which electrified Italy was a matter of seconds.

As Mussolini was emerging from the hall after addressing the international Congress of surgeons the Irish woman pushed her way to the front of the cheering crowd, gathered on the sidewalk, leveled her revolver, and fired point blank at Mussolini's face.

With an involuntary swing of his

CONDITION OF BURBANK IS CRITICAL BUT NOT HOPELESS

(By Universal Service)

SANTA ROSA, Cal., April 7.—The condition of Luther Burbank is grave but not hopeless.

He must have absolute rest and freedom from excitement and exploitation.

These were the findings tonight by a consultation of three physicians including the plant wizard's personal physician—Dr. John Shaw, Dr. John Galloway and Dr. J. Wilson Shields, San Francisco specialists.

In a bulletin issued after the consultation and signed by the three physicians, it was said:

"We have made the following findings:

"1. The condition—a gastro-intestinal condition in an aged man resulting in inanition and acidosis, consequent upon an exhausted nervous system.

"2. Prognosis—is guarded, somewhat grave.

"3. Fundamental treatment—continued a continuance of present methods with absolute rest and prevention of exploitation."

POLICEMAN AND BANDIT SHOT IN TWO ROBBERIES

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—A policeman was shot and one of three bandits is believed to have been wounded in two sensational robberies occurring in two hours in this city today.

Two bandits entered the twenty-third and Mission street branch of the Liberty Bank a few minutes after closing time. They lined five employees up, scooped up several hundred dollars and started for the door. A Torelli, paying teller, fired several shots at them as they fled. On the sidewalk outside the bank, policeman George O'Leary, attracted by the shooting ran into the bandits.

Without hesitation one of the bandits fired, hitting O'Leary in the arm. The bandits escaped in a waiting automobile. Torelli told police he believed he hit one of the bandits.

Two hours before, a lone bandit entered the Richmond District branch of the Anglo California Trust company, held up five employees and escaped with $500. Warren Casey, paying teller, fired several shots at the bandit as he escaped in an automobile.

PLAN TO BOOST NEW AIR ROUTE

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—To assist Southern California in breaking all records for first flight mail when the new transcontinental air mail opens over the Los Angeles to Salt Lake City Airline soon, members of the Long Beach Brea and Santa Ana Air club have pledged themselves to raise at least 1000 personal letters for the trip.

Arctic Flyers Establish Record

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, April 7.—Making the longest American flight on the way to the North pole, Captain Wilkins with his pilot Ben Nelson started on March 31 from Point Barrow, Alaska and reached 70 miles further than any explorer had previously gone in that section.

Captain Wilkins returned to his base safely, according to the North American Newspaper Alliance which made the announcement today. Captain Wilkins accomplished an unprecedented feat in crossing the Brook range of Arctic mountains and flying over uncharted prairie.

SPAILDINGS RETURN
Drs. J. B. and Clara Spaulding returned to Richmond yesterday from a trip to San Diego. The trip was aboard the steamer Yale.

GIRL MAY BE CALLED AGAIN IN TRIAL OF ARMY OFFICER

Letters Implicating Army Chaplain are Declared False by Handwriting Expert

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Lucille Swallow, pretty Kansas City beauty parlor attendant, may again be brought here as a witness in the court martial of Captain O'Neil Clappitt, army chaplain, who is being tried for conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman.

This was intimated today when, after the court martial board ruled that letters written by the girl to one Edward Martin in which she accused him of being responsible for her delicate condition, could not be introduced by the defense.

It was indicated that the ruling was based on the theory that the proper foundation had not been laid by the defense to introduce the letters in evidence.

Defense counsel claims that the introduction of Miss Swallow's letters to Martin would clear Captain Clappitt of the sensational charges of the "Kansas Cyclone girl" that he was responsible for her condition. The defense also hoped to prove that the letters in which Clappitt is alleged to have practically admitted his responsibility are forgeries.

"We ask," said Col. W. A. Covington, addressing the court, "that this girl be brought here and questioned by the defense."

which the defense rests its entire case. Martin, although under subpoena, has disappeared, our whole hope of securing the defendant (Continued on Page 3)

Arctic Flyers Return to Field At Fairbanks

Special Cable Dispatch

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA, April 7.—The pathfinder plane of the Detroit Arctic Expedition, piloted by Lieut. Carl B. Eielson with Captain George H. Wilkins as passenger, completed the first round trip between Fairbanks and Point Barrow, 600 miles north of here, at noon today when they landed on the field here from which they hopped off April 1 on their venturesome air journey into the far north.

The return trip was made in about eight hours from Point Barrow to Circle City, where they were forced down last evening for gasoline and rest.

They encountered strong headwinds which threw them off their bearings and caused them to fly 150 miles eastward.

The party received an enthusiastic welcome and their arduous journey was met with relief during the long silence that ensued after they hopped off northward.

Their actual flying time for the round trip was approximately sixteen hours.

Ross Evangelists Surprise Many At First Christian

The Ross evangelist company pleasantly surprised the large crowd gathered at the First Christian church last night to hear evangelist A. L. Webb of Berkeley speak. The company gave several saxophone selections.

The Ross company are noted here as they have appeared in this locality several times.

In spite of the rain a large crowd was in attendance at the meeting last night where Webb spoke upon "Witnessing for Christ." Webb will speak on Thursday and Friday night, but will not speak on Saturday night.

Hughes to Present Data On Saving of Oil in This Nation

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Former Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, counsel of the American Petroleum Institute, will appear before President Coolidge's Oil Board this month to present data on conservation of the nation's petroleum supply which is declared by some authorities to be facing near exhaustion.

THREE KILLED BY FURIOUS STORM $7,000,000 Fire Continues To Rage

FOUR MILLION BARRELS OF OIL BURNING

Fire is Said to Be The Worst Conflagration in Oil Business History

TWENTY ACRES ARE ABLAZE

Explosion Shakes Ground for Thirty Miles as Tanks Are Ignited by Lightning

(By Universal Service)

SAN LUIS OBISPO, April 7.—More than four million barrels of oil, thundering into mountains of flame out of the world's five biggest oil tanks, near here, tonight are feeding a $7,000,000 spectacle that rivals Dante's conception of the inferno.

Twenty acres of the Union Oil Company's tank farm—the largest there is—goes ablaze. And working like demons amid the flame and smoke and heat and noise, 200 men are driving like mad to construct trench lines and to be rid of the inferno.

Over, will not explode many more millions of barrels of oil and distillate in surrounding tanks.

San Luis Obispo, two miles away, beyond a low-lying ridge of hills, is trembling beneath a flame, its canopy of smoke so heavy it is tangible.

"There is no danger that the fire can reach the town," the officials send the message from where they are directing the fire-fighters. Yet so awesome are the towering flames and the unceasing rumble that shakes the ground underfoot that few persons in San Luis Obispo can find the courage to sleep tonight.

The fire, which is described as the worst conflagration in oil business history, was touched off by a crashing lightning bolt at 7:30 this morning. Striking square on the cover of one buried concrete tank that holds 1,250,000 gallons of crude oil, the largest oil reservoir existing, the flash from the heavens instantly ignited the oil.

With a detonation that shook the ground for 30 miles around, that broke a third of the plate glass windows in San Luis Obispo; that set surrounding farmhouses awry, the tank exploded. Bits of its blazing wood and tar-paper cover were sent flying for thousands of feet. A tower of flame and black smoke leaped into the sky.

At almost the same instant, so quickly at any rate that the explosions seemed simultaneous, three other underground concrete tanks blew up. Each contained 750,000 gallons of crude oil. Two seconds after that lightning bolt four huge tankfuls of crude oil—3,500,000 barrels—worth between five and six million dollars—were doomed to inevitable destruction.

It was hoped at first that the fire could be confined to these four tanks, but in mid-afternoon a fifth tank, containing 750,000 barrels more, blew up and added its quota to the conflagration. Immediately after the bolt of lightning had ignited the four tanks at 7:30 a. m. the fire fighting organization went to work. While scores of the oil company's laborers attacked the fire, executives called reserves from miles around.

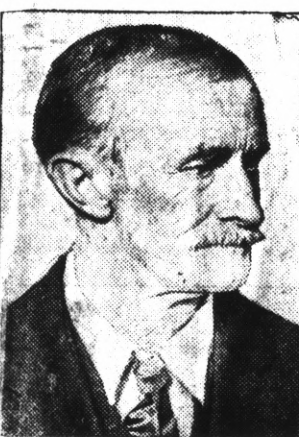

To Los Angeles and to Avila, twelve miles east of here, the word was flashed for fire-fighting men and material. At once, hundreds of barrels of an oil-firing preparation were started for the scene to be used in an effort to smother the flames.

Farm tractors were commandeered and used in digging trenches into which the oil might flow when it boils over. A steam shovel from San Luis Obispo was also put at this work.

FATHER PLEADS TO BE ALLOWED TO TAKE PLACE OF SON EXECUTED FOR MURDER OF GEORGIA PROFESSOR

This photograph shows T. L. Coggeshall (left) father of Ted Coggeshall (right) who was executed at Milledgeville, Ga., for the murder of Prof. W. C. Wright, Putnam County school superintendent. The father tried to push through the guards at the execution and asked to be allowed to take his son's place. Ted Coggeshall, of Clayton, Ill., is said to have confessed to a well-to-do worker, through permitting his father and mother to believe him innocent.

POLLWOG CLUB IS FORMED HERE

The Santa Fe Pollwog club was formed at the home of A. J. Meindorse, 1827 Roosevelt avenue last night. The members will meet once a week at the natatorium for a swim after which they will adjourn to the home of one of the members where refreshments will be served.

Members of the club are: Messrs. and Mesdames A. J. Meindorse, A. W. Parker, B. W. Johnson, W. C. Humphrey, R. W. Rich, Fred Shackelford, and Mrs. Mae Glynson; the Misses Stella and Anna Thorson, and Edna Hall and Messrs. E. Meindorse, D. O. Cook, George Cornell and William Higgins.

The officers elected at the meeting last night are: A. W. Parker, president; B. W. Johnson, secretary-treasurer and E. Meindorse, chairman of the by-laws.

Bridge May Be Built To Connect Marin And Contra Costa

Providing the necessary permit is secured from the War Department, construction on steel bridge connecting Contra Costa and Marin counties will be completed within two years, according to the plans of bay capitalists. The bridge will be nearly two miles long and at an elevation of 135 feet above high water will extend from Point San Pablo to McNear Point in Marin county.

The bridge will be the suspension type with the cables for the suspension and anchored in the hills on each side of the bay.

The group of capitalists planning the bridge will make formal application to the war department soon. A survey near the site of the bridge will be made soon by the government to determine the location of a salt water barrier and it is believed that a survey to determine the feasibility of the proposed bridge can be made at the same time.

In Contra Costa county the Real Estate Board has filled its quota two and one-half times.

Scots Not to Meet Today

There will be no meeting of the Scots today, but Sunday afternoon in La Jolla Johnson's tire shop the general committee in charge of the ceremonial to be staged in Richmond on April 17 will again meet and discuss important matters. All are requested to be present.

All Scots planning to go to Antioch tonight are requested to notify George Lohr at Richmond 939.

MISSING PILOT IS FOUND SAFE

PASCO, Wash., April 7.—Franklin Rose, missing pilot of the new Pasco-Elko, Nevada Air mail service, which started yesterday and has met with a succession of near disasters is safe, according to reports reaching here tonight from Boise, Idaho, intermediate headquarters of the service.

Rose was forced down late yesterday in a desert north of Deep Creek, Nevada, near the Idaho-Nevada line and walked 35 miles to the nearest telephone, where he advised the Boise officials tonight that he is unhurt.

Charles Cuff who was in the car with Reyes suffered two broken legs in the same accident.

A laborer was electrocuted near Modesto, when he came in contact with a wire fence which had become charged with electricity, due to a broken power wire.

A Butler, an employee of the Sutter Basin Company, was drowned near Elkhorn, Yolo county, while searching for planks with which to make a runway for his automobile that had become stalled in the mud.

The men are reported to have suffered no ill effect from their experience. They will arrive here Friday. The pair started on their flight early Tuesday morning and after a few hours the crank shaft of their machine broke.

NORTHERN PART OF STATE IN GRIP OF STORM

Crops are Being Benefited by Heavy Rain Which is Sweeping This Section

THREE MEN ARE INJURED

Harbor Shipping is Tied up as Strong Gale Lashes Ship Along The Entire Coast

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—All northern California is in the grip of a storm that promises to break rainfall records of thirty years standing. And while the rain is worth millions of dollars to the state, assuring crops while drought threatened, much damage is being caused by landslides, shipping is delayed, and rivers are rapidly reaching the flood stage.

Briefly summed up the results of the storm follows. Three persons lost their lives and three others suffered injuries in central California. Power and telephone lines down in many places. Buildings collapsed by the winds. At Point Reyes the velocity of the wind reached 77 miles an hour in San Francisco, 41 miles was registered during the morning.

Harbor shipping was more or less tied up as the result of the storm.

Railroad schedules were maintained with the exception of the Western Pacific on which four trains were seriously delayed by landslides in the Feather river canyon.

Frank Reyes, a state highway foreman, was killed when a large tree fell upon his automobile while traveling over the Weaverville lateral.

Charles Cuff who was in the car with Reyes suffered two broken legs in the same accident.

A laborer was electrocuted near Modesto, when he came in contact with a wire fence which had become charged with electricity, due to a broken power wire.

CONCLUSIONS OF FACT

A large section of the scientific world remains chary of admitting the effects of sunspots on weather. Or rather, the best informed among astronomers and physicists while admitting that there is an effect, do not go so far as to say that the effect is perceptible over long periods.

The western hemisphere is possibly just now emerging from a fourth storm of considerable size. The first three, as we have pointed out, coincided in time with the appearance on the earth-ward side of the sun of large spots and numerous small ones. It seems that in the present phase of the sunspot activity, one face or hemisphere of the solar sphere is practically free from visible disturbances and the other is extraordinarily well provided with them.

The spotted surface is again presented to the earth and on the day that phenomenon commenced, the fourth of this winter's great storms gathered and broke.

This leads to a conclusion that there is a very great effect of sunspots on terrestrial weather. And it is on the basis of observations and conclusions such as these that such forecasting as man is allowed to do in the absence of divine powers, can be attempted.

If the observed period of sunspot activity is followed, the maximum will not come until next year. If this winter's activity is not a misplaced maximum, coming two years ahead of schedule, the regular maximum in 1927 should be of unusual prominence. A record peak may be plotted in the sunspot curve.

That would lead, then, to the prediction that the summer of 1926 should be stormy, and if so, agriculture in the southwest should take heart for a coming period of good fortune. Lack of water will not bother and all should be well.

PEACE TO YOU

The democrats have had so little opportunity to chortle over republican misadventures that it is not surprising they are making the most out of the debate over Texas federal patronage between Mr. Creager, the republican committeeman, and congressman Wurzbach. The congressman got his dander up over certain appointments, maintaining that as the only republican congressman out of Texas, he ranked the National Committeeman. The National Committeeman replied contrariwise, and John T. Tilson and Will Wood joined in the fray.

The debate, however, is picturesque rather than important. When it is all over there will be certain reconciliations, and Wurzbach, no doubt will be returned to congress to continue as the republican congressman from the Lone Star State. Meanwhile, if the democrats can be kept busy enjoying the joke we may be saved their dangerous intermeddling in the more serious things relating to the life of the nation.

THE STAMP ACT

It was about this time that Benjamin Franklin proposed, at a conference at Albany, that the congress of the colonies should sustain the armies used in their defense and pay for them by taxes levied in America; but that plan had been rejected.

Many leaders in England agreed with the colonies that what English armies did in America was part of England's struggle for empire, and that England should pay for it. They felt the desire of the colonies to control their own direct taxes should be respected.

Now the English ministers saw that they must strengthen the frontier posts. This involved a huge expenditure of money, which George Grenville, head of the English government, turned to America for.

The Stamp Act was passed almost without opposition in England and became a law. The Act required that revenue stamps, of values varying with the character of the transaction of the amount involved, should be attached to all deeds, wills, policies of insurance and clearance papers for ships, to legal papers of almost every kind, to all written contracts and most of the business papers used by merchants in their formal dealings, and to all periodical publications and advertisements.

The Act affected America like a spark dropped on tinder. The colonies were openly defiant, became openly violent; distributors of the stamps were burned in effigy; stamp houses were torn down; the house of the comptroller of customs at Boston was sacked. There was tumult everywhere.

The courts hesitated to transact business, without using the stamps. But the hesitation did not last long. Business was presently going forward as before and never a stamp used.

The congress of the colonies drew up and sent over sea a statement of the right of the colonies to tax and govern themselves as loyal to the king, but not as subject to parliament.

The Stamp Act was repealed. But the parting of the ways had begun.

NEW EMBROIDERIES CHARM

BY THEIR SIMPLICITY

Gorgeous Effects Obtained by Use of Simple Stitches that Even Children Can Make

By MONA MULLEN

WHEN one speaks of the season's loveliest embroideries, one may speak of them in terms of the one stitch, the running stitch, the lazy-daisy, and outline stitches, for these, with French knots, are used almost exclusively in the development of new designs, especially those created for dress decoration.

The group of beautiful designs pictured represent the simplicity of the embroidery mode. To the upper left are illustrated three of the motifs contained in a transfer which supplies six motifs for the trimming of silk and cotton dresses, blouses, etc. Three are 8½ inches, and three are 5½ inches high.

Household embroideries are represented in the center group, the transfer furnishing the shape and design of one 33-inch cloth and four place mats.

In the lower left-hand corner is a design of which the transfer supplies three motifs, one large and two small, for the introduction singly on dresses, or its use as an entire front panel on a gown.

In the lower center of the group is a design of which the transfer supplies eight motifs, two 9½ inches, and six 4 inches high. These may be used on children's garments, hats, etc., as well as on gowns.

The little butterflies and chicks themselves suggest many effective ideas of decoration. The transfer furnishes one each of four distinctive borders which may be used for anything from towels to children's frocks.

Many beautiful color schemes may be developed with any of the designs illustrated.

Why Girls Go Back Home

BY CATHARINE BRODY

Copyright 1925 by Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.

"Why Girls Go Back Home" with Patsy Ruth Miller is a Warner production from this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Though New York's latest sheiklet as "The Great Lover" in a "brilliant play success," when Clifford Dudley is sued by a chorus girl for breach of promise he starts a "four of the sticks" until the affair can be smoothed over. Clifford is a Broadway nosey, who blooms best on city pavement; and air is anathema to him until one night he catches sight, through the peephole, of an exceptionally pretty girl in a small town audience.

CHAPTER I—(Continued)

The next moment, her giggle and a musical cry of pretended fear amused the people nearby. The avid yokel had caught her finger in his mouth. Their neighbors turned to look and smile knowingly at the playfulness of the youth.

"Now, John!" cried the girl, coloring a little. The youth, lead to shame, kissed the finger tenderly. The girl blushed more furiously, disengaged her hand, while her dimpled cheeks betrayed the sternness, in fact, the hand, trailing between the seats, immediately yielded to the hand of John which had trailed after it. The girl spread her skirt of lavender silk dress a little, and the two clasped hands found a half-refuge behind it.

"Not so worse," said Clifford. He had a neat mustache, grown for the purposes of the part. Ordinarily he relied against it, but in John's case he used it when looking at a pretty girl—and he stroked it gently. "Wonder how old she is? Doesn't look more than seventeen. Pretty kid!" he murmured.

A rumble and pushed a chair against his legs. Clifford stared. The rude starehand stared back. "Out in the audience, the pretty girl and her John leaned dreamily he spoke, and extend his hands. Instead he turned to the audience, and, looking directly at the pretty girl in the first row, fastening his eyes on the large, brown ones which she had turned startled to the stage, he besought:

"How can I work with inanimate paints, when you are here—so alive—so desirable?"

The model's face was in the shadow. Otherwise the bored expression of her face would have been out of the picture. Inwardly, she thought: "Oh, Gaud, Dad's up to his tricks again. She's a pretty kid, all right." Aloud, she said coolly:

"Go back to your work, I beg of you."

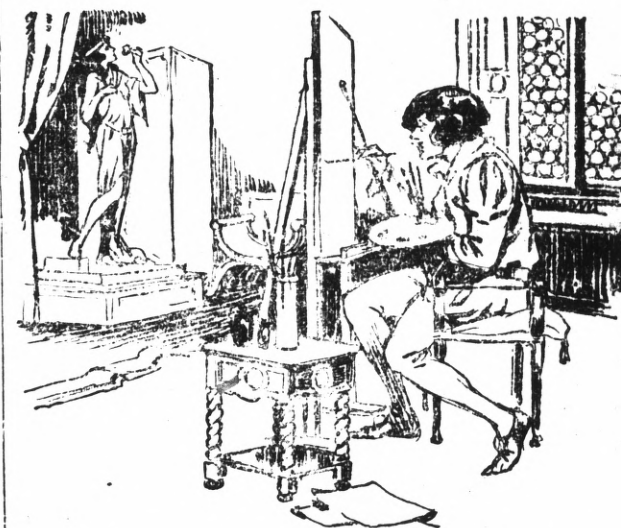

"Turn passionately," the stage directions said at this juncture. Clifford turned passionately, but over his shoulder he looked at the brown eyes, and his voice implored and sang:

"Your youth is claiming me—to be wooed. To be loved. To be won."

A little gasp went through the audience, following his eyes so directly to the girl in the front row. The audacity of this actor, And Marie Downey, who was she anyway? The women thought resentfully. They could see the back of her head very plainly, the only girl's head in the front row rigid. Was she making eyes at him, blushing? They could not see.

John, however, could see—her eyes, fastened on the actor, with wonder, awe, and delight. She seemed to hardly dare to breathe through her open, transfixed mouth. Her hand unconsciously loosened from John's grasp. He released it, flung it from him. She did not seem to feel. She moved forward in her seat, held by the mellifluous voice which spoke of Love in great big, capital letters. John's lips came up in a childish pout. He was only twenty. This was too much.

Sally Short, the model, got up from the dais and trailed her drapery to the footlights. She was making the responses with annoy-against each other. They blinked when the curtain rose, and suddenly it seemed to be spoiled, for a whim of the star's.

"Williams has got to stop this!" She vowed angrily. "If he wants a cutie from the audience for his leading woman, o. k., but that lets me out."

"You are a man of sickle moods. If I could but believe you!" and added, sotto voce, on her own initiative:

"Catch me."

Clifford strode toward her. He caught her in his arms, and began his long love speech. This was a big scene for Sally, too. They were supposed to stand sideways, half facing the audience, so that it could see the varying emotions on both their faces. But as Clifford began his speech, slowly, coolly, he gripped Sally's arms, manipulating her with unwonted force, in the heat of his passion, so that he finally stood with his face to the audience and gripped her tightly in his arms, with her back to the people and her brow against his chest. Thus he continued, intoning the love speech to Marie, beseeching her, pleading with her, stretching forth one hand directly toward her.

"Will you look at that?" gasped the girl back of Marie to her grinning sweetheart. "She's got him going!" John, beside himself, nudged Marie sharply. She gave a vague nod of her head. Her eyes were swimming with tears, as the artist told the sad story of loves who had betrayed him. John could see her profile dimly. It yearned toward the man on the stage.

"To you alone," the sonorous voice continued, "I tell the truth: 'Is that so?' mocked Sally under her breath.

GOVERNOR TO ATTEND SANTA ROSA FETE

SANTA ROSA, April 7.—Plans for the reception of Governor Friend W. Richards, and members of the California Press Association who are to visit Santa Rosa during the Thirtieth Rose Festival to be held here May 14 and 15, are under way here today.

Governor Richardson's party will be especially honored by the festival committee, and will be escorted over the line of march of the big floral parade, the outstanding feature of the floral fete by a bevy of Santa Rosa's fairest "rose-buds", if present plans are consummated, it was announced today.

Mayor Charles O. Dunbar, member of the executive committee of the California Press Association and Grand Marshal of the parade, will head the reception committee for the Governor. He will be assisted by State Senator Herbert W. Slater, also member of the press association and local newspaper man, and members of the general festival committee.

County Grocers To Hold Session

CONCORD, April 7.—Nearly 100 retail grocers of Contra Costa county will assemble here on April 12, to discuss buying plans and co-operation. Several local business men are arranging the session.

J. H. Morrow of Martinez will preside.

Reward for 40 Years Service

President Salt Gives Emblem to Leo M. Dunn

To a former office-boy goes the distinction of receiving the first "Service Medal" given by the largest electrical merchandising company in the world. Leo M. Dunn, vice-president in charge of merchandising and accounting of the Graybar Electric Company, was the recipient of this honor yesterday upon completion of forty years continuous service.

Mr. Dunn has had an interesting business career, representing as it does advancement from an office-boy position to vice-presidency of this, the largest company of its kind in the world. He started work in March, 1886, as an office-boy; he was then eleven years old. At the age of nineteen he had his first supervisory job.

In 1910, Mr. Dunn was chief storekeeper of the Pittsburgh distributing house of the Western Electric Company. He became manager at Pittsburgh in 1913, and manager of the Philadelphia house of this company in 1918; the next year he was made Assistant Eastern District Manager. Later he was transferred to New York as manager of the New York distributing house and Western District Manager of the Western Electric Company. He became General Merchandise Manager of the Supply Department in 1923, a position he held up to his present advancement to the Vice Presidency of the Graybar Electric Company.

Standard Oil Loses Suit With The Government

In a decision handed down by the Court of Claims of the United States, the Standard Transportation company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company is ordered to pay to the government $12,338,481.03.

The suit on which the award was made was a counter claim brought by the government following the refusal of the Standard Transportation company to accept a rate of $1.50 per dead weight ton per month on a bare boat chartered by the United States Shipping board. The claim was instituted after the court allowed the transportation company $250,536.63 for the use of four tankers requisitioned by the government in 1917.

Famous Judge to Seek Re-election

(By Universal Service)

DAYTON, Tenn., April 6. Judge John L. Raulston, who presided over the famous Scopes evolution trial, today officially announced himself a candidate for re-election. In his announcement he bitterly denounced Clarence Darrow's statement that he (Raulston) conducted the Scopes trial with an eye on his re-election.

Judge Raulston is popular in this section where a great majority share his fundamentalist views. The statement is of a kind here that if Judge Raulston had sent Darrow to jail for contempt of court he would be re-elected a landslide.

RELIGION AND SCIENCE AGREE SAYS BISHOP

(By ROBERT J. PREW (By Universal Service))

LONDON, April 7.—Fundamentalism has undergone a heavy onslaught at the hands of Dr. Gore, lately Bishop of Oxford. Lecturing at St. Paul's Cathedral, Dr. Gore undertook the task of reconciling Christian religion with modern science.

He abandoned one position after another to the scientists—Adam and Eve, the Garden of Eden, the traditional Heaven and Hell, and the stories of the Creation and Ascension.

"Let us proclaim," he said, "as constantly, as emphatically and as publicly as possible the abandonment by the Church of an untenable position—the position that the early chapters of Genesis record literal history."

"The early Christian leaders never intended the position to be held, and I blame the later theologians for stubbornly claiming a literal fact what was intended only to be the vivid and symbolic presentation of a divinely inspired idea."

"The theory of evolution is more satisfying than the old drama of special creation, to which unfortunately the theologians of the Renaissance committed themselves."

Justifies Bible Stories. Dr. Gore then proceeded to justify many of the Bible stories on grounds other than scientific.

"The parable of the Ascension of our Lord," he said, "is the only form in which the glorification of Christ could have been expressed to the imagination of man."

"In the first chapters of Genesis what we have is not history but ideas in the form of a story. From these stories we are intended to learn great moral truths. We should regard Adam and Eve not as historical individuals, but as symbols of man and woman."

"Not only the Church, but mankind as a whole, has shown remarkable lack of imagination in taking literally what was intended to be symbolic. The Apostles have shared the fate of later picturesque or ironical writers in being misunderstood."

Glory of Age.

"When we say that Christ ascended into heaven we refer to a vision actually seen by the Apostles, which was intended to express through the imagination of man of all ages His exaltation into the Divine glory which, to us, is inconceivable and indescribable."

It is typical of the lack of interest in Fundamentalism in this country that Dr. Gore's ultra-modernistic pronouncement, made to a very large audience, has not evoked a single reply.

The Reach of the Spoken Word

WHEN the small family group of primitive man expanded into the cave community, a means of communicating beyond the normal range of the voice became imperative. Then someone discovered that by making a speaking-trumpet of his hands, he could increase the reach of the spoken word, could add new effectiveness to the human voice.

Other means of transmitting intelligence, in their turn, were found to serve the needs of man: the signal drum and the beacon fire; the written message, carried by runner, by rider, by water or by rail; and finally, the telegraph.

But these messages, however carried, lacked the direct and personal qualities of conversation. They were but symbols of speech, the shadows of the spoken word.

Then, fifty years ago, came the telephone. A half-century of scientific research has extended the reach of man's voice to thousands of miles. The Bell System's vast network of lines provides a service nationwide in scope. The American continent today is no larger, from a communication standpoint, than was the prehistoric community in which the cavemen shouted from cliff to cliff.

Special Demonstration Of Murphys Famous Brushing Lacquer

On Saturday, 10th day of April at Donnell's Hardware Co., Macdonald Avenue, there will be a Special Demonstration of Murphy's Brushing Lacquer. This is one of the most recent and wonderful products that has been presented to the public in recent years. This Lacquer has been used very successfully in Auto Industries for a few years, but this product had to be used with a spray. The Murphy Varnish Co., famous for "Day-after" have perfected a Brushing Lacquer, which can be used by cote. Any amateur with perfect success. Beautiful finishes can be obtained on Furniture and Floors, and everything where interior paint and enamel has been used. The job when finished is dry and can be used in half an hour and is practically indestructible. It will be an hour well spent if you call at Donnell's Hardware Co. and see for yourself "the last word in Brushing Lacquer."

RICHMONDFILM HAS A PLOT OF GREAT INTEREST

It's one thing to live on a movie "street." It's quite another thing to have an "address."

Habs (Caret), who worked in the classified ad. department of the big newspaper, lived on the one and yearned for the other. Big Central Park, which divides West Sixty-sixth street from East Sixty-sixth street in New York City, represented to Habs the classification a vacation and a literal gulf in social distinctions.

How was Habs to bridge this gulf?

The situation is one of those clever psychological problems developed in the fertile brain of Edna Ferber, favorite of a million magazine readers. It has been transcribed into screen form by that cinematic craftsman, June Mathis, and is now on view at the Richmond Theatre, with Corinne Griffith starred and a supporting cast to gladden one's heart.

Miss Griffith will surprise even her most ardent fans. The type she depicts is now one to her, and its filming is perfect. Jack Mulhall is ideal as the mechanic who outdistances the smitten aristocrat, played by Ward Crane, for the favor of the impudent little want ad girl. In the supporting cast, each one of whom fits perfectly into his niche, are such prime meridian monopolists as Charles Murray and George Sidney.

You'll have lots of laughs, many a smile and perhaps a tear or two for contrast when you see "Classified."

Other features on the same program include "Never Again," an Al St. John comedy; "Prizma," the screen magazine.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Davidson, and son Jack, of Stege, left for Los Angeles yesterday morning.

Estate of Former Resident Is Said To Be $100,000

Miss Ruth Mossler, of Santa Rosa, was named administratrix of the estate of the late G. L. Mossler, Richmond property owner, who died in Santa Rosa, March 28, according to the will filed for probate in Martinez yesterday by C. A. Odell, attorney for the estate.

According to the terms of the will, the estate valued at approximately $100,000 will be divided among sixteen relatives.

A life interest in property located on Ninth street, between Macdonald and Nevin avenues, together with $15,000 is bequeathed to his brother, John Mossler.

Twenty thousand each are left to two sisters, Mrs. Rose Mossler of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Elizabeth Langlois of San Francisco, who will also share in the residue of the estate.

Smaller bequests to a brother, Fred Mossler of Marshfield, Ore., to nephews, nieces, and cousins of the deceased.

The bulk of the estate consists of mortgages and securities, valued at approximately $75,000 and according to the terms of the will three years are allowed to convert these into cash.

MARION DAVIES IS PLEASED AT THE CALIFORNIA

Marion Davies, the appealing orphan in "Zander the Great," the pliant princess Mary in "When Knighthood Was in Flower," the intriguing "Princess of Light" of Old Broadway, Marion Davies, who has given the screen so varied a series of characterizations that not all else seemed possible, has come forward with still another and this time one that marks a new page in screen history.

This is her role in "Beverly of Graustark," her new Paramount production now being seen at the California Theatre. The world knows her as a screen beauty and an emotional star and she has come to welcome her dignified roles in her story.

But as a crown prince—that's new.

Sarah Bernhardt did what Marion Davies has done in "Beverly of Graustark," her new Paramount production now being seen at the California Theatre. The world knows her as a screen beauty and an emotional star and she has come to welcome her dignified roles in her story.

The story is a brilliant romance of a European court intrigue, adapted from the famous novel by George Barr McCutcheon, one of the ideal romances of the decade. Miss Davies plays the heroine and masquerades as the prince in a daring original situation that is fairly breath-taking.

The cast is notable and the staging and costuming, especially the great throne room scenes, gorgeous. The battle on the mountain crag is a striking thrill.

Antonio Moreno plays a convincing hero as Danton, the leading male role, and Roy D'Arcy gives a sincere interpretation of the polished villain as the pretender to the throne, Creighton Hale, Pauline Delaney, Max Barwyn, Albert Grant and Charles Clay round out the adequate roles. Sidney Franklin directed the picture with artistic skill.

Other features include "Songs of Ireland," the first of the Famous Melody Series, in which a love drama is told to the tune of Irish folk songs, with Larry Canelo, at the organ; "Ebony Cartoon," "International News."

Make Noise While You Eat Says English Novelist

By ROBERT J. PREW

LONDON, April 7.—"Make no effort to eat quietly. No noise is likely to be half so noticeable as any appearance of strain in avoiding it." This is one of many ironic comments on the amenities of life contained in a book entitled "Manners and Tone of Good Society," written by Mrs. Dowdall, the novelist.

Daughter of Lord Borthwick and wife of Judge Dowdall, an old-time lawyer, Mrs. Dowdall gives amusing advice to people who are not naturally at ease in polite society. Here is another specimen:

"Women whose legs are inclined to convulse more closely at the ankle than at the knee must exercise the greatest care in the length of the skirt to be worn, unless this line is discovered in public walks of our cities."

Kirkwood Final Rites Are Held

Final rites for the late Alexander Kirkwood, 77, who passed away at his home 734 Ninth street on Tuesday were held yesterday at the Wilson and Kratzer parlors with Rev. C. R. G. Pool officiating. Interment followed, at the Sunsetview cemetery.

Kirkwood was a native of Scotland and came to this country several years ago and moved to Richmond four years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jean Kirkwood; four sons, John, Alexander, Sloan and William Kirkwood of Richmond and Mrs. B. Coana, a daughter who resides at Gallup, New Mexico.

A nicely the contour of the lower extremities may tend to convey that whimsical suggestion of a pair of bananas which is said to have struck an eminent artist during his wanderings through the public walks of our cities."

This Consultation Room is but one of the many beautiful parlors of the Fong Wan Herb Company. Adjoining it are the Spacious Tea Rooms where hundreds of persons can be served with Herb Tea. These handsomely furnished rooms evidence both the Artistic Taste and Professional Success of the Fong Wan Herbalist.

ALL GOOD THINGS HAVE THEIR IMITATORS

Up to five years ago no Chinese Herb Company in the Bay Cities had ever written or published any articles regarding the Scientific Theories upon which Herb Treatments are based. The Fong Wan Herb Co. was the first to publish a series of educational articles regarding the five principal elements, Lungs, the Kidneys, the Liver, and the Heart. Many readers expressed such keen interest in these articles that they have since been reprinted in book form.

These articles were written by the FONG WAN HERBALIST out of the abundance of his first-hand knowledge of Chinese Herbal Remedies. Fong Wan has had an unusually wide and varied experience in the treatment of disease, and because of his unprecedented success in the relief of ailments of many sorts, he has become well known all over the Coast.

About two weeks ago the herbalists of another herb company began to imitate Fong Wan's methods of writing and advertising. The public should be warned that none of the articles produced by these imitators have any value, as they are written by persons who lack a fundamental knowledge of the properties of Chinese Herbs. Of course, it is a compliment to Fong Wan to have others imitate him. If he not possess a genuine, first-hand knowledge, none would care to copy his methods and purloin his ideas.

The Fong Wan Herb Co. has always pursued an honest policy. It regards the imitation of the ideas of other people, by those who possess no fundamental knowledge of the subjects on which they write, as dishonest and disgraceful.

HEEDED MOTHER'S ADVICE

For more than a year I suffered from hemorrhage from a tumor. During this time I was treated by several physicians, all of whom agreed that an operation was the only thing that could help me. Neither my husband nor I liked the idea of the knife.

Upon the advice of my mother who, after having an operation on the right side, the wound forming a fistula which had never healed for 14 years, had found complete relief and fistula healed by drinking the Fong Wan Herbs, I decided to try them.

Owing to my terrible condition and my extremely poor health, it took about six months before I was entirely well. I am now in splendid health and my old troubles have been completely vanquished. I formerly lived at 1805 Howard St., San Francisco, but have recently removed to Oakland. My phone number is Market 6550.

ITCHING HANDS AND LEGS

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 26, 1926

For many months I had night sweats and caught cold easily. I was very weak. There was a dizziness in my head and a buzzing noise in my ears. In fact, I had a complication of troubles. No treatment of any kind benefited me in the least until I took the FONG WAN HERBS for about a month. They helped me wonderfully. I am glad to recommend them.

MANY AILMENTS RELIEVED AT ONE TIME

A SYSTEMATIC COLD

SAN LEAN-RO, March 5, 1926.

During the severe weather of last month I contracted a cold that settled in my system. Every time I coughed, it hurt my stomach. After two weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment I am now entirely well.

TO RELIEVE THE SUFFERING OF WOMEN IS FAR MORE DIFFICULT THAN TO COPE WITH THE AILMENTS OF MEN. Nevertheless thousands of women have been restored to health by the Fong Wan Herbs. Among the latest testimonials received by the Fong Wan Herb Co. from patrons of the feminine sex are those of Mrs. L. Duarte, 96th Ave., East Oakland, Mrs. E. Dickey, 1425 Grove St., Oakland, Mrs. E. C. Guerra, 78 E. at St. Pittsburg, Calif., and Mrs. E. W. Chamblin, 2224 McGee Ave., Berkeley. The public is cordially invited to visit the beautiful home of the Fong Wan Herb Co., and inspect the stock of pure, fresh herbs.

TODD AWARDED DECISION OVER FRANKIE DENNY

(By Universal Service)

OAKLAND, April 7.—Roland Todd, of England, British middleweight, was awarded an unpopular decision over Frankie Denny of Oakland, in ten round here tonight.

Referee Al Wainwright was booed for five minutes by the fans who did not agree with his decision.

In the first round Denny knocked Todd down for a count of eight and nearly had him out. Todd was hanging on at the bell.

Denny took the second round and the third round, fought even in the fourth and fifth and took the sixth round, lost the seventh, fought the eighth even and lost the ninth.

In the tenth round however, he had Todd again on the ropes, landing lefts and rights to the head and to the body.

The other bouts resulted as follows:

Patsy O'Hara of Fort Dodge, scored a technical knockout in the first round over Eddie Stone formerly of the U. S. navy.

Jack Spencer of Reno won the decision over Billie Burke of Los Angeles in six rounds.

Benny Viera of Oakland won the decision over Frankie McCann of San Leandro, in six rounds.

Eddie Hadden of Oakland won the decision over Eagle Thomas of New York in four rounds.

Polo Ponies At Washington Ball

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, April 7.—"Spikes" and "Hunter" occupied boxes along with Vice President Davis, Secretary of War Davis, a flock of ambassadors and other diplomats and scores of the army and navy set at the Polo Ball given by Washington's smart set at the fashionable Willard Hotel tonight.

"Spikes" and "Hunter" entered by the same door and rode to the ball room by the same elevator as all the other guests. Once on the ball room floor they attracted more attention than all the dignitaries present put together. And no Deb was half so popular.

The boxes occupied by "Spikes" and "Hunter" were nice white box stalls trimmed up with red and green and white streamers. "Spikes" and "Hunter" are prize polo ponies and were taken to the ball to give it the real polo atmosphere.

DUNLAP WINS QUALIFYING ROUND

The qualifying round of the Pinehurst tournament was won by George T. Dunlap, Jr., 17 year old New Yorker at Pinehurst yesterday in the annual north and south open winter amateur championship rounds. He turned in a card of 118. His round included three birdies. Dunlap's play was the outstanding of the 200 players who are entered into the event.

OREGON TRACK

Twenty men have been selected by Coach Bill Hayward of the University of Oregon to meet the Stanford team at Palo Alto on Saturday. Chief among the outstanding members of the Web-footers is Eric Flinn, holder of the Pacific Northwest record in the broad jump.

SUZANNE NOT TO APPEAR IN U. S.

Suzanne Lenglen is peeved at the American Lawn Tennis association, therefore Mlle. Lenglen will not visit the United States during the summer and stage exhibition matches. Mlle. Lenglen's grievances are the outgrowth of the time in 1924, when she staged several matches in this country. During the time of the matches she would be struck with another case of temper and would refuse to play. The association ruled against her, so now she is peeved and will not come to this country, even though C. C. (Cash and Carry) Pyle offers her a tremendous sum of iron men.

BEAVERS WIN

Now that so much comment has been cast saying that Ernie Johnson manager of the Portland Beavers, will have a terrible time this year with his charges, all this comment seems to be groundless if the Beavers keep showing their stuff as they did in the game with the Seattle Indians on Tuesday. On paper the team looks like a wonderful bunch of players, but rumors will have it that they are not so good in actual play. But Tuesday's game found them in the pink of condition when they murdered the Indians to the tune of 10-5, this is a warning to the Seals to look out for the pennant.

O'CONNEL WITH OUTLAWS

Jimmy O'Connell, who was thrown out of the Giants for mixing in what was alleged a deal to throw a game, was signed up by the Fort Bayard N. M. team in the Copper League. Six big league outlaws are included in the Fort Bayard team besides O'Connell.

BRUIN CREW WORKOUT

The University of California rowing crew held a work out over the three mile course on which the Husky and Bruin crew will hold their races on Friday. The unofficial time was 17 minutes, which isn't so bad, considering that the U. C. team is recovering from a long trestle train ride.

RAIN HOLDS UP LOS ANGELES BALL GAMES

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, April 7.—Local baseball fans will not be able to view the Angels in the 1926 pennant race until Saturday. Because the rain of the last three days has converted Wrigley Field into a miniature lake, President Joe Patrick today postponed the opening game between Los Angeles and Oakland until Saturday.

HARRY GREB AND MANAGER HAVE SPLIT

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, April 7.—Harry Greb, former middleweight champion, stirred up the biggest bit of boxing news, aside from the allotment of summer fight dates that was available before the boxing commission today. Greb, who has been in training for three weeks at Hot Springs, Ark., rushed East for Easter Sunday at Atlantic City and then split in unexpectedly on the solons.

Harry has broken away from his manager, James (Reddy) Mason, the man who signed the contract for him to fight a return match with Tiger Flowers for the 160 pound crown. The parting took place at Hot Springs and the two have not spoken since.

Greb's story is interesting and it is believed that the boxing commission thinks, unofficially, it is true. According to Greb, the day of his fight with Flowers in which Greb lost his title, one of the commission deputies stepped up to him and reminded him that his license to box in this state had run out and he and Mason agreed to take care of it right away and pay the fee of $5. Greb says that while his mind was on the fight he signed four or five slips of paper, thinking they were all about the license, and that he has learned since that one of them bound him to Mason on a two-year contract.

Harvard Appoints Football Group

(By Universal Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 7.—Harvard announced the appointment of a new graduate advisory football committee of eight men, tonight. The committee consists of five regular members and three associates.

J. Wells Farley, a Boston lawyer, who was chairman of the committee which prevailed upon the late Percy Foughton to undertake the establishment of a winning Harvard system, heads the present committee. Ernest Soucy, an end in '12, '14, and '15, Charley Coulson, another three year wing man, Westmore Wilcox, another player, and White, Harvard's first graduate manager and a non-football man, make up the remainder of the regular committee.

Solomon Might Have Studied Over This Case of Shoes

Mistaking figure ones for figure sevens in an order sent to the Wolverine Shoe company, of Rockford, Mich., resulted in a larger shipment than B. C. Peterson, Richmond shoe merchant expected, and a court case to determine the blame was heard by Justice of the Peace John Roth.

Peterson ordered shoes, two pairs of one kind and one pair each of six other kinds, but the similarity of the ones to seven, resulted in the company sending forty-four pairs of shoes. When the order arrived, Peterson returned the surplus.

The company asked that Peterson pay the freight on the shoes returned. After hearing both sides of the case, Judge Roth decided that both were equally to blame and ordered that the freight charges be divided between them.

Girl, Champion Athlete, is Star in Many Sports And Seeks New Laurels

Violet Kruback, is the star of the Wells Park high school basketball team having scored 119 points of the total of 131 scored by the team in its recent games. This Chicago girl is an all-around athlete. She also excels in the shot put, running, bag punching and baseball and is a skilled gymnast. In track and field meets Miss Kruback has broken two records and equalled a third.

Four Damage Suits Against Santa Fe Follow Collision

MARTINEZ, April 7.—Four damage suits, aggregating $77,241 and resulting from a fatal automobile crash at Antioch on the morning of Sunday, June 28, 1925, were filed in the Superior Court here today by members of the families of the three young men who were killed and the fourth who was seriously injured. The Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe railway is the defendant and the fireman and engineer are named in the suit.

Willis Orion Barnett and Mrs. Lela Barnett, son and widow of O. A. Barnett, ask $20,400 damages. Laverne, and Mrs. Zula Hallmark, daughter and widow of W. R. Hallmark, seek a like amount. And Smith Casner, father of M. D. Casner, seek damages in the same sum. In the fourth suit, Hollace Taylor is suing through his father-guardian, for $16,221 for personal injuries.

The fatal accident occurred at 6 o'clock on Sunday morning when the four young men were driving across the Santa Fe tracks to the wharf at the Antioch Lumber company, on a fishing party.

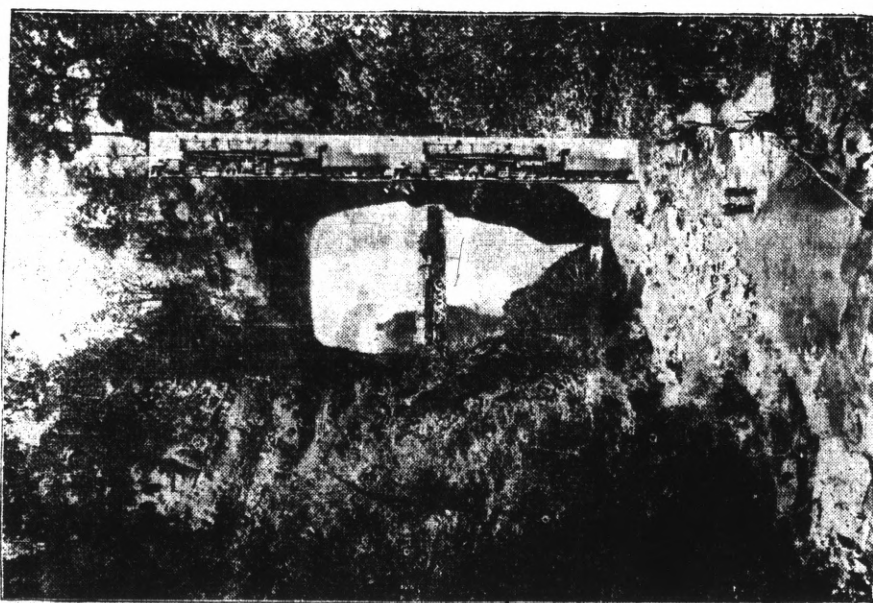

Three were instantly killed and the fourth was confined to a hospital for many months.

B. B. BANQUET
The San Pablo Baptist Basketball team, champions of the Sunday school league, are planning to hold a banquet on Friday night at 7:30. After the dinner, a game will be held.

Four Million Barrels of Oil Burning

pany's laborers, reinforced by squads of American Legionnaires, who answered the call for help from San Luis Obispo, began "digging in" and throwing up barricades, built of sheets of corrugated iron.

The effect of these efforts will be the construction of a sort of saucer-shaped hollow, in which the fire-fighters hope to keep the blazing oil when it begins to rise up out of the tanks as the heat of the flames sets it afloat. If they are successful the fire will burn itself out in a week or so. If they are not one can predict just what will happen.

From San Pedro oil tankers have been ordered to sail under the forced draught for Port San Luis. As soon as they arrive, the oil from the bottom of the burning tanks will be pumped into them through buried pipe lines. Thousands of barrels of oil may be saved by this method. The high wind, however, interferes seriously with these tank-ships making connections.

The five blazing tanks are in the center of the oil farm, surrounded by fully two-score raised steel tanks of varying sizes, containing crude oil and highly explosive and inflammable distillates. If the blazing oil from the giant underground tanks bursts the hastily built earth-and-iron barriers during the night, only a miracle can save these smaller tanks. It is believed.

LIGHTNING STRIKES

(By Universal Service)

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal. April 7.—Struck by a bolt of lightning this morning, four of the huge storage tanks of the Union Oil Company's tank farm, the largest in the world, which is located two miles from here, were in flames at a late hour and twenty-five other tanks were in grave danger. The damage is estimated at $10,000,000 by Lyle Cobb, local manager of the company.

More than 3,000,000 barrels of oil stored in the four tanks, is being consumed by the flames. A special train carrying men and 100 barrels of fire fighting compound, is being rushed here from Avila, twelve miles east of here.

A bolt of lightning struck the largest of the four tanks shortly after 7 o'clock. A moment later a roaring concussion was felt and then four tanks burst into flames. The explosion shook houses within a radius of several miles. Theodore Miminie, 15, a farm worker, was cut and bruised.

Thieves Jack Up Car and Steal Wheel and Tire

Employees of the Pullman shops are planning to hire a machine-gun battery to guard their cars as the result of thefts during the past forty-eight hours.

No sooner had one employee finished telling that his car was stolen from in front of the shops during the working hours and everyone thought what a brazen deed had been committed, than another report came in.

H. Lappin reported that the police yesterday that thieves had stolen a wheel and tire from his car, parked in front of the shops during the hours of 8 and 5:30 o'clock yesterday.

Police are on the look-out for the thieves who jacked up the car and stole the wheel while Lappin was working in the shops.

Gall Bladder Troubles Gone!
To Whom It May Concern:
For over a year I had trouble in my gall bladder, pain on my right side, vomiting and a general rundown condition. On February 23rd of this year I had an attack of appendicitis, the pain of which was so severe that I could not sleep at night. I came to see the Chew & Chew herbals and after taking one dose of herbs I was greatly relieved. I continued to take the herbs for a few more weeks and I am all well now. March 14, 1926.

HEEDED MOTHER'S ADVICE

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 26, 1926.
For more than a year I suffered from hemorrhage from a tumor. During this time I was treated by several physicians, all of whom agreed that an operation was the only thing that could help me. Neither my husband nor I liked the idea of the knife.

Upon the advice of my mother who, after having an operation on the right side, the wound forming a fistula which had never healed for 14 years, had found complete relief and fistula healed by drinking the Fong Wan Herbs, I decided to try them.

Owing to my terrible condition and my extremely poor health, it took about six months before I was entirely well. I am now in splendid health and my old trouble have been completely vanquished.

I formerly lived at 1805 Howard street, San Francisco, but have recently removed to Oakland. My phone number is Market 6556.

Yankee Movies, Negro Jazz American Radio and Plays In New Invasion of Russia

(By Universal Service)
MOSCOW, April 7.—Soviet Russia is suffering a Yankee invasion.

Not with the help of heavy artillery and bombing planes, but by negro jazz bands, movies, theatrical productions and radio concerts.

The first negro jazz band since the revolution has breezed into Moscow and after the first startled query "What's all the noise about?" wide smiles of approval have spread over the faces of all ranks of the populace.

This jazz band composed of six negroes from Chicago gives three performances a night at a local theatre, and through the program such cold storage entertainers as "How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm?" the listeners avow themselves all for the "wild modern music with its savage dissonances."

of the Bolshevik Hairy Ape, though it was not as flamboyant as that of the original American product.

Radio fans are heaping along with the Americanization by reporting that during the recent international radio week several persons in Moscow tuned in and heard music and singing and even speeches that were broadcast from stations in the United States. The Russian enthusiasts had to sit up all night for the pleasure, now over, for when New York said "good night" at eleven P. M., it was eight in the morning in Moscow.

Freak Hurricane Hits Stockton

(By Universal Service)
STOCKTON, Cal., April 7.—Life was narrowly averted here today when a freak wind hit the northern section of the city.

Two hundred feet of the highest portion of a scenic railroad was blown down at the Oak Park amusement grounds and limbs from the oak trees were scattered all over the park.

Mrs. Harley Gillispie, wife of the amusement park manager, barely escaped death by running to shelter as the broken timbers were flying about here.

Damage to the park equipment will amount to nearly $5,000.

Italy Stirred Over Attempt to Kill Mussolini

Mussolini almost evaded the bullet which struck the lower part of his nose inflicting a slight wound.

It seemed as though a swift thrust of the arm of a surgeon was necessary to save the life of the Italian dictator. As soon as the bullet struck, Mussolini's head was jerked back and he fell to the ground. He was not injured, but he was shaken. He was taken to the hospital and his condition was reported as serious.

While the dictator's condition was reported as serious, the Italian people were in a state of excitement. They were all talking about the attempt on Mussolini's life. They were all wondering what would happen next. They were all hoping that Mussolini would recover and continue to lead Italy.

Peace Disturbers Are Fined $25 Each

Girl May be Called Again In Trial of Army Officer

from charges of intimacy with Lieutenant Swallow. The girl, who is now in the hands of the military police, is being held in a room at the Hotel California.

The court-martial board announced that Miss Swallow "might" be sent for later.

Colonel Covington declared that the letters of his possession were clear Captain Clappitt not only of any relationship with the girl, but that he would prove that the girl had resorted to blackmail, forgery and perjury.

John Chapple, Los Angeles, so-called "defense" mystery witness, was waiting to be called. Chapple, defense counsel, said, will testify that he became intimate with the swallow girl at Needles, California, several months ago.

At that time, the girl told Chapple, defense counsel declared, that she had recently undergone an illegal operation and had named an army chaplain for her condition although he was really innocent.

Colonel Covington expressed the opinion that the court's decision to exclude the Swallow-Martin letters was not final and that it was possible they could be introduced after the proper foundation had been laid by the defense.

Chauncey McGovern, handwriting expert, testified that the "dearest" letter which Clappitt is alleged to have written in which he assured her that he would help and stand by her in her trouble, was a forgery, the work of Miss Swallow as part of her plan to blackmail the chaplain.

McGovern declared that he was positive the letter was written by Miss Swallow and described her effort to imitate Clappitt's handwriting as a "rank forgery and very crude."

McGovern's examination completed, court adjourned until tomorrow when a "mystery witness" and character witnesses will be called to the stand.

Business men generally have recognized the need of conserving time. It has been said that "he who uses time best, succeeds best", and in order to conserve time, inventive geniuses of the nation have perfected machinery for almost every mechanical activity in man's daily life.

The modern housewife with her clubs, lodge work and the time necessary to properly raise her children, must spend less time in her PRISON—the Kitchen.

She must have conveniences of the latest type in that room and most essential of all is her STOVE. That stove must be qualified to handle all the cooking that is necessary to be done at one time, it must be compact, it must be easily kept clean, it must be economical in the consumption of fuel, in order to keep down the household expenses. And last but not least it must be an article of beauty.

Such a Stove is the WEDGEWOOD Pungalow model pictured above. More than these things it is built in the west, for the people of the west and for the climatic conditions peculiar to the west. It is guaranteed, not only by ourselves but by the manufacturers, to give full satisfaction in even the slightest detail.

Come in and let us demonstrate the many points of Wedgewood construction.
